UNSTABLE

You know, in this life everything seems short
Even our moments spent together
Come on, let's walk a little: it's late, yes, I know,
But we never do it.
You are the voice nobody knows how to listen to,
The lamplight in this avenue:
Soft, still it's there. But stay here with me:
Let's sit down if you want.

And tell me how you are and what you do in your days;
It's easy to talk under this faked moon.
And I will listen to you and if you fall I will catch
you:
You are less fragile inside this dark night.

You know, sometimes I think you are unarmed
And the whole world around you surprises you
Like this snow falling softly
But come on, let's stay here for a while.

And tell me how you are and what you do in your days;
It's easy to talk under this faked moon.
And I will listen to you and if you fall I will catch
you:
You are less fragile inside this dark night.

Show yourself and you'll see: you'll fly in your sky,
Open your wings and then jump and fly.

And tell me how you are and what you do in your days;
It's easy to talk under this faked moon.
And I will watch you and if you want I'll follow you
If you are unstable have no fear,
Have no fear.
Have no fear. No.
